

Land Use Plan For City's New Zoning Ordinance Adopted By Council

Nov. 1 Fixed For Passage Of Law To Guarantee Sierra Madre's Desirability

By unanimous vote the city council Wednesday evening accepted the master or land use plan for Sierra Madre's new zoning ordinance as agreed upon by the city planning commission and fixed Tuesday, November 1, for completion and adoption of the proposed new law.

The legally advertised hearing by the council on the plan attracted a smaller audience than had attended any recent meeting at which the zoning subject had been under discussion and strangely enough brought fewer expressions from the public than at any previous hearing or meeting.

Immediately after the council's session the planning commission arranged a series of conferences with Kenneth Sampson, zoning expert of the Regional Planning Commission, at which the zoning ordinance will be drawn and the master plan presented. Sampson has already outlined a rough draft of the proposed ordinance.

Until the ordinance is adopted the city will have the protection afforded by adoption of the master plan by the council. No permits for building or improvements that do not conform with the plan now of record will be issued until the ordinance is completed and adopted. Which means that duplicates may not be constructed in a single family residence district and that multiple dwellings, business houses and industrial establishments may be erected only in areas indicated in the master plan.

Addressing the audience at the council meeting Mr. Sampson explained that adoption of the land use plan by the council amounted practically to a notice of intention by the council to enact a zoning ordinance and that its adoption was merely a starting point. A zoning ordinance, he explained, was not intended to be a hindrance to the development of the community nor to deprive citizens of their property rights. As the preceding proceeds, he said, ample opportunity will be given citizens to get what they desire in the way of zoning so long as their desires do not conflict with the fundamental idea that zoning is designed to greatest number.

Dr. Webster Vannier renewed his plea for single family residence zoning in the Esperanza avenue section, he having already filed a protest petition on behalf of himself and owners of neighboring properties.

Mrs. C. A. Vane said residents on East Sierra Madre Blvd. east of Mountain Trail felt they were being "picked" by being included in an area that permitted any other than single residences and warned the council not "to rush into a situation you will forever regret."

Col. H. B. Hersey said the situation here was different than in most cities, that the people don't want big buildings and that there is little demand for many apartments or bungalow courts.

The population of Sierra Madre would be double what it is today if the city had been intelligently gone some years ago," he said, "and urged the council to 'go through with it.' 'If you put it off, you will be right back where you started,' he said.

William Burr told the council that the Chamber of Commerce had recommended adoption of the master plan and hoped the council would immediately adopt the plan so as to give the city some protection.

Warren E. Craig renewed the protest of himself and neighbors on Mariposa avenue and H. A. Howard and Hugh Deacon said they had bought property in this area that was without restriction and believed they should if they wanted to do so be allowed to build duplex or double houses.

When the urging of Mayor Schiltz failed to bring any more expressions from the audience Councilman Carter himself made a statement in which he called attention to the fact that the city was now absolutely unprotected since the previous zoning law was held invalid and that under existing circumstances it would be possible to build a bungalow court or apartment building adjoining any residence in the city. Adoption of the master plan by the council, he said, would have the effect of "freezing the situation" and act as a stop gap to control building in the public interest.

He then moved adoption of the land use plan and completion of the zoning ordinance in time for action by the first council meeting in November.

Owners of property located on Mariposa avenue between Hermosa and Lima filed a protest opposing classification that would restrict the area to single family dwellings.

It set forth that the property in question is located only one block from the only car line in the community and is also near

Garden Club Will Picnic On Dr. Lux Estate

Members and friends of the Sierra Madre Garden Club will meet Monday evening at Clovercrest, the Monrovia home of Dr. George T. Lux. The host has invited members who wish to spend more time in his beautiful estate and surroundings to arrive anytime after 2 o'clock in the afternoon, to enjoy swimming and hiking through the canyon to view some of the rare plants. Supper will be in the form of a basket picnic which will be followed by a program of entertainment.

Australian Flame Tree Blooming In Sierra Madre

The brilliant Australian flame tree planted by Irving Ward in the parkway at 192 North Mountain Trail avenue, about ten years ago, is one of the few specimens to be found in the San Gabriel valley. At this season the 50 feet high pyramid shaped tree has large bunches of bright red miniature bells which carpet the area with flame as the fall.

James Sparks Once Mayor Is Dead

Active In City's Affairs For Many Years While He Engaged In Citrus Growing

James D. Sparks, long active in the affairs of Sierra Madre and mayor of the city from 1922 to 1927, died at his home in Pasadena yesterday, in his 80th year.

Born February 4, 1858 on a farm near Boone, Ia., before coming to manhood he decided to become a minister. Earning his way, he graduated from Simpson College, Ia., and Boston Theological Seminary. In 1886 he began his work as a Methodist minister. Various appointments in Iowa were given him. After 20 years of ministerial service, ill health forced him to leave his chosen work.

Traveling westward, Sierra Madre became his home with his family in 1911. Here he engaged in citrus industry for 17 years. During this time he attended the Congregational Church where he taught an adult Sunday school class. His interest in civic affairs was given its greatest scope while a member of Sierra Madre's board of trustees. From 1922 to 1927 as president of the board he was the acting mayor.

With his wife he moved to Pasadena in 1928. Near blindness since that time has made active pursuits impossible. Taking the place of what he could not see, he kept in his mind the beautiful things he could remember having seen.

Mr. Sparks is survived by his wife, Maud A. Sparks, his daughters, Mrs. C. L. Twycross, Mrs. Fred H. Baker and Lucile Sparks; three grandchildren, Randolph Twycross, Richard Twycross, and Shirley Ann Baker; a brother, John C. Sparks and sister, Mrs. Nettie H. Sparks of Boone, Ia.

Funeral services are to be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at Grant's Chapel. Burial will be in the Los Angeles cemetery, Los Angeles.

Council Cuts Cost Of Weed Removal After Hearing

While Francis D. Tabor was protesting with the City Council Wednesday about a bill of $14.90 for cleaning his lot at 73 East Sierra Madre Blvd., of weeds the city's engineering department admitted that 52 per cent of the cost of weed removal by the city goes for overhead—supervision, billing and bookkeeping.

Mr. Tabor vehemently declared the charge excessive for clearing a lot 50x192 feet, most of which is covered by buildings. He had been charged, he stated, for the services of four men for 19½ hours whereas he had personally done the job in former years in three or four hours. He laid responsibility for the overcharge to the council, declaring that he had received no notice such as he had received heretofore, or he would have cleared the property himself. Questions by the councilmen developed that the lot had been posted and he was informed that it was not necessary for the city to send out cards or give personal notice.

After a consultation the council agreed to reduce the charge from $14.90 to $9.75 though Mr. Tabor stoutly insisted the charge should not have been more than four or five dollars as it was a poorly done job at best. St. Rita's parish was exempted from the charge of $27 for the removal of weeds on several lots used as a playground at the parochial school.

Republican Women To Meet Thursday; Public Invited

Republican women of the city are cordially invited to attend the regular monthly meeting of the Sierra Madre Council of Republican Women which will be held Thursday morning, August 4 at 10:30, at the city hall. The principal speaker will be Mrs. J. D. Buchanan, president of the Los Angeles County Federation of Republican Women. There will also be short addresses by Republican candidates.

Snider Quits CNPA Office To Run For Sttae Controller

A. E. Snider, publisher of the San Fernando Sun, has resigned as secretary-treasurer of the California Newspaper Publishers Association to become a candidate for State Controller at the August primaries. Snider was serving his third term as financial officer of the newspaper organization whose constitution and by-laws specify "No member holding any elective or appointive office" shall be eligible to hold an office in the Association.

"Sold Every Last Thing," Pleased Patron Says

"I am so pleased with the results I obtained that I feel you should know what a splendid thing a want ad I inserted in the Sierra Madre News last week did for me," said Paul J. Ford of 167 Merrill street, when he stopped in the office yesterday to order discontinuance of his ad.

"There is no occasion to use it again," he said, "for every last article I advertised in the paper that came out Friday morning was sold before sundown Friday evening. I should say that was getting results—and I am greatly pleased."

Improvement Of Grand View Ordered

Additional Allocations Asked For Bridge And Paving Of Western End

Serious thought was given the matter of putting Grand View avenue into condition before the arrival of the rainy season by the City Council Wednesday evening. August 1 being the deadline for the filing of projects requiring PWA assistance, city engineers were instructed to prepare an estimate and plans for the paving of Grand View avenue from Lima street to Mountain Trail avenue. It will be forwarded to Sacramento today. The job will require lowering of the water pipes in this thoroughfare.

On the suggestion of Councilman Carter that the job be hurried to completion before the rains come, work was ordered to proceed on the paving and curbing of Grand View avenue from Mountain Trail to Santa Anita avenue. A county allocation of over $15,000 on the gas tax fund has been available for this work for some time. The curbs on the south side of the street were set before the March storm which washed them out underneath.

Construction of a swale to replace the washed out East Grand View avenue bridge is a separate project financed jointly by WPA and the State Emergency Storm Relief Fund.

An allowance of $1400 was made from the State's storm relief fund towards construction of the swale. The council adopted a resolution asking an additional allocation of $2644 for construction of a bridge, inasmuch as the city was allowed only the $1400 out of its claim for over $11,000 spent to fight the flood.

The council approved plans submitted by the flood control commission for repairs of the rubble channel of the Little Santa Anita through the Canyon Park area. It was seriously damaged during the March storm and if not repaired before the winter rains come residents on the stream bed in the Canyon will be endangered.

THRILLING EXPERIENCES OF WAR TIMES IN SHANGHAI ARE TOLD BY VISITOR

Thrilling experiences of residents of Shanghai who have become so accustomed to death dealing Japanese bombs bursting overhead and all about them that they play bridge and golf and go to the movies as though there was no war, are related by a visitor to Sierra Madre. She is Mrs. Wilbur Judd, wife of an executive secretary of the Army and Navy YMCA's for China, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Laura Hawthorne of 52 East Sierra Madre Blvd. She will return to Shanghai in September after spending five months in the states with friends and relatives.

During her 15 years of residence in the Orient Mrs. Judd has become very fond of the friendly, honest and simple people who ask nothing more than to be left alone to raise the few crops necessary for their livelihood.

"What impresses most people who visit Shanghai," said Mrs. Judd, "is the normalcy with which the foreign population go about their daily work and recreation with bombs bursting overhead. During the heavy fighting last October and November we played golf, bridge and went to the movies as we had done for years. A fatalistic attitude prevailed. We felt if we were to be killed it would happen in our homes as quickly as on a golf course. It would have been impossible to live if we had not taken this outlook."

The YMCA building is a seven story concrete structure located in the International settlement bounded by the Shuohow creek and the Whang Poo river. Last November the battle moved inland from Shanghai up the Yangtze River dropping bombs about a half mile from the Y.

Many people stood on the roof and watched the bombs fall around this protected territory where either because of carefulness or luck, the International settlement was not harmed although the river and creek were the only boundaries that could be seen from the air. Plate glass shop windows were boarded up with arrows pointing to side and back entrances, business going on as usual within.

Stories of homeless and hungry Chinese were told by Mrs. Judd who worked in a refugee camp. In one instance a hundred people were crowded into one school room, with many people sleeping out of doors on the cold ground. Along the Hung Jao Road where the Japs forced the Chinese to retreat, many French country homes were looted, their inhabitants having already left. The Japs took the lighting fixtures, even locks, to get the much needed metal. A machine gun nest was made of the living room in one home.

There is a feeling of optimism in face of great odds, according to Mrs. Judd. "We are hopeful of the outcome," she said, "for this war has done much to unify China and build up a nationalistic spirit. There is a wonderful morale in the army which was entirely lacking before. Under the present leadership five marvelous schools were built, but several were hit hard. The youth of the country is being educated along nationalistic lines which is an objective Japan is out to destroy."

Mrs. Judd spoke of the high price of food in China, especially chicken which formerly offered the cheapest meals and now because of the scarcity of fowls, is sky high.

Amusing sidelights on the quaintness of the Chinese were signs, one of which was in a transfer station and read, "Let us take your baggage and send it in every direction." Another was a notation on a taxi fare statement which is sent monthly, reading, "Ten gone, ten comes at 50c a went."

Jensen Will Be Legion's Commander

Two Opponents Withdraw Leaving Him Clear Field At Thursday's Election

Norman B. Jensen will be unopposed for commander of Sierra Madre's American Legion post at the annual election of officers in the Dug-out next Thursday. Lloyd B. Welch and "Jack" Mitchell, the other nominees, decided to give Jensen a clear field and have withdrawn from the contest, it was announced yesterday.

Mitchell will be unopposed for first vice commander and Gordon P. Felts is now unopposed for second vice commander. There is no opposition for the re-election of Henry M. Olsen as finance officer, or to the election of Ray Calkin as historian or Phillip B. Linville as chaplain.

Al Bray and "Bill" Cronin will battle it out for sergeant-at-arms and six members of the executive committee will be selected from the following list of nominees: Percy Brock, Carlo M. Block, Samuel Graham, Will T. Clement, Russell Lovejoy, Bryan O. Burke, Collin Hill, William H. Schwartz, Gordon P. Felts and Thorne Mathis, Roy H. Pickett, Arthur H. Embree, and James A. Irvine.

Department delegates are Messrs. Cronin, Lovejoy, Graham, Jensen and Colligan; department alternates, Messrs. Livingston, Felts, Olsen, Clement, Pickett, and De Long.

Program Arranged For Conference Of Writers Here

Plans for the first Southwest Writers' Conference to be held at the Wistaria Vine Gardens August 27 were discussed at a meeting of the Foothill Poets Thursday night at the Sierra Madre Woman's clubhouse. Father Wilkins, minister of St. Barabas chapel, Pasadena, who gave a reading, was introduced by Dean Arnold G. H. Bode. Others appearing on the program were Miss Olive Sedgman who sang a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Vieira and Lucia Trent, who discussed current books. Mrs. Al S. Myers, director of the Poets, was hostess and Ralph Cheyne presided.

Mrs. Pritchard Said Resting Comfortably

The many friends of Mrs. Arthur O. Pritchard will be glad to learn that she is resting comfortably without pain at her home, 139 West Orange Grove avenue. Mrs. Pritchard has been unable to engage in her usual church and social activities for about a month.

Local School Will Have A Seventh Grade When Bell Rings In September

Responses So Far Received Leave No Doubt About Wishes Of Parents—Board Interviews Candidates For New Teaching Position—Man Certain To Be Selected—Higher Tuition Draws Fire

It is a certainty that the seventh grade will be restored at the Sierra Madre grammar school this fall, with the possibility that by this time next year it will be equally certain there will be an eighth grade.

Responses already received from parents of seventh grade pupils leave no doubt but that a large majority prefer their children shall attend school at home, without the necessity of bus rides to Pasadena and the school board is so certain of the outcome that it is interviewing candidates for the additional teaching position that must be created.

"It looks as though we will very easily have the 20 registrations necessary to establish a seventh grade in Sierra Madre this fall," said Edwin Ward, Jr., president of the local school board. "Sixteen registrations were received at the school by Tuesday. These returns came in less than a week after the cards had been mailed and with the number of parents on vacations at the present time, it is expected the registrations will later reach 30 or 35."

Applicants for the position of the 7th grade teacher were interviewed Tuesday. It has practically been decided that a man shall be engaged so that he may take charge of the playground, physical education and manual training, in addition to the general desirability of having a man on the teaching staff. Great care is being exercised in selecting an instructor. A person of high standing and ability will obviously be chosen for this new grade inasmuch as its success depends upon the results of the first year.

The local school board finds it impossible to give an estimate on the 1938-39 Sierra Madre school year.

Low Fire Loss Record Is Continued

Per Capita For Year Only 1.7 Cents—Department's Maintenance Is 78 Cents

Sierra Madre's per capita fire loss for the fiscal year ending June 30 was one and seven-tenths cents, according to the fire department's annual report filed with the city council Wednesday evening by Chief W. D. Richards.

There were 18 fires during the year, only seven of them affecting buildings. Six were grass fires, two were Christmas tree fires, 1 was an automobile, one an electric appliance and one in the mountains.

The department was allowed $4,200 for operating expenses and finished the year with an unexpended balance of $287.86, the cost of maintenance being 78½ cents per capita.

The total loss on buildings was only $40 and on their contents, $45.

Date Fixed For Next Dinner-Meeting Of Business Folks

The second dinner-meeting of business and professional people, sponsored by the merchants committee of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, will be held in the garden of the Woman's clubhouse on Monday, August 8th.

Secretary Kinnear promises something different in the way of getting acquainted. The merchants committee will be ready to make a report on suggestion for a series of community events made at the last meeting. Reservations must be made for this dinner. Cards for this purpose are being mailed so that the names of those planning to attend may be had by the committee.

Deer Hunters Will Start Out Monday

Announcement of a change in the deer season dates for district 3, which includes most of Southern California, was received yesterday by department of forestry. The deer season in district 3 will open August 1 and close September 15, except in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties, where it will remain open from August 10 to September 9, both dates inclusive.

New Dwarf Wistaria Vines Coming To The Gardens

Mrs. W. J. Lawless who is en route to Seattle sends word of a delightful trip, the high point of which has been a visit to the Clark Nurseries at San Jose where she found a recently developed miniature type wistaria. She will bring several of these plants back to Sierra Madre to plant in the lovely Wistaria Vine Gardens.

Campaign Rally Of Townsend Forces Brings 250 Here

A full attendance from the Sierra Madre club turned out last Friday at the City Park where a mass meeting of the 30 Townsend Clubs in the 11th Congressional district was held. About 250 Townsendites were in the city. A basket picnic was enjoyed from 5:30 to 7:30 with the local club serving coffee. The meeting was opened by Thomas J. Newman, president of the Sierra Madre club. Col. Ralph Horton, candidate for congressman was principal speaker, talking on "Saving Democracy and the Youth of America." Col. Horton explained how he believed the Townsend plan would work to that end. Mrs. A. M. Whitmore, Pasadena, field representative, also gave a short talk.

A musical program followed with piano duets by Mrs. Allan and Mrs. Nellie Davis, Pasadena; a whistling solo by Mrs. Fraiser, president of club 16, Pasadena, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Bland, Pasadena.

Says City Injured By Holding Up Vine License

A letter urging the issuance of a business license to Mrs. W. J. Lawless for the Wistaria Vine Gardens of the ground that refusal to issue a permit has brought adverse publicity to the city was read at this week's meeting of the council. Mrs. Ferguson's letter follows:

"In view of the adverse publicity our city is receiving of the problem of a license for the Wistaria Vine Gardens I feel compelled as a taxpayer and property owner to bring to your attention the value of the Wistaria Vine Gardens as a city asset.

"The owner of the Gardens has spent thousands of dollars with our local merchants to create a nationally known garden and has made the name of our lovely foothill village synonymous with lovers of nature. You, gentlemen, have been elected to fill a difficult position. It is quite possible to please everyone; however, quite within your powers to benefit the majority to the best advantage of the community. The dissatisfaction of the minority will always be with us.

"In the interest of harmony I petition you to grant this request of the Wistaria Vine Gardens and keep our lovely spot open to the many who may enjoy it."

Water Suit Brings Engineer's Bill

Willis S. Jones, wellknown Southland water engineer, submitted a bill to the city council Wednesday for $518.00 for services rendered in connection with Pasadena's suit to restrict the use of water by Sierra Madre and nearby communities from the underground basin. Jones conducted a survey for Sierra Madre, Arcadia and Pasadena. His bill was referred to the finance committee.

SECRET IS OUT--- KIWANIS CLUB MEMBERS TELL WHY THEY CAME TO SIERRA MADRE

Kiwanis club members provided their own program Tuesday noon when each member was given two minutes to tell why he came to live in Sierra Madre, where he came from and why he is still here.

A variety of reasons were given, the majority of them having to do with the famed climatic conditions conducive to good health. Ten said they came here to regain their health and did not expect at the time to make this city their permanent home. Others liked the homey feeling of the town; the gorgeous scenery appealed to some, and business changes brought a few.

David Reoss was taken in as a member of the club and Kiwanians welcomed back to the fold R. C. Copenhaver, who has been in San Pedro. Captain E. G. Everett is leaving soon for an extended trip.

The community fund drive for the youth organizations was believed to have produced the quota but definite figures were withheld until the meeting next week.

Weston Senour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Senour of 81 East Grand View avenue left Tuesday with friends on a fishing trip to Bass Lake and planning to go on into Yosemite Valley before returning to Sierra Madre Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter P. Thill entertained Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lipman and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ladd of Los Angeles Sunday at their home at 50 East Grand View avenue. Mrs. Lipman and Mrs. Ladd are sisters of Mrs. Thill.

Mary, Jerome, Bennett, Dolores, Lois and Betty Thill spent Thursday at Manhattan Beach with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. Hoxmeier.

Mrs. James W. Daily of 694 West Alegria avenue, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. L. Erdman at Tomah, Wis., for the past three weeks, will return to Sierra Madre about the middle of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of 685 West Alegria avenue and children Barbara and Jerry spent three days last week with friends at Hermosa Beach.

Mrs. P. E. Lacey has moved from 70 Windsor Lane to 136 East Highland avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Wood of 255 North Hermosa avenue, and their sons David, Roger, and Alan have been spending the past two weeks at the cabin of J. N. Hawks at Trulee Meadows in the High Sierra. They returned Saturday.

Mrs. Dorothy Jacobson of Big Bear Park and her children, Ardis May and Edwin are visiting Mrs. Jacobson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mercer of 285 Adams avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Keith, 326 East Sierra Madre Blvd., entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Roberts last Thursday evening at dinner, followed by a Pasadena theatre party.

O. F. McCarthy and Frank Cagle, 737 1/2 Woodland Drive, left Saturday for Bishop, where they will spend two weeks fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McDonald and children, of Roscoe, Calif., have established their permanent residence at the Happy Family Hotel, 225 North Lima street.

Mrs. Doris Vickers of Tucson, Ariz., is a houseguest of Miss Norma Louise Lentz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip C. Lentz of 98 East Sierra Madre Blvd.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Longstaff of 510 Manzanita avenue are having a holiday at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver of 409 Ramona avenue returned Sunday from Wilmington where they spent the last two weeks. While there they had a splendid opportunity to visit their many friends at Long Beach, and also found the Naval and shipping activities at the harbor of particular interest.

Mrs. David Pian of 481 West Sierra Madre Blvd. and daughter Marilyn left Tuesday for Santa Catalina Island where they will spend a week.

Mrs. May Ballenger of 264 San Gabriel Court returned Friday evening from Rosemead where she has been visiting for a week at the home of her son, W. J. Ballenger.

Miss Jean McCullagh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. McCullagh of 223 West Laurel avenue, and Miss Betty Wilson spent the weekend with Miss McCullagh's aunt, Mrs. E. J. Murphy, at her cottage at Hermosa Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Lester K. Layton of 548 Sturtevant Drive have been entertaining their nephew Charles Tucker of Inglewood for the last two weeks.

Henry P. Howland of 225 North Lima street who has had the unusual good fortune of not missing one day's pay in the past years, has been enjoying a six weeks vacation, during which he and Dr. Adele Howland spent several days at Ocean Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis Clark of 281 Arbolada Drive, Santa Anita Oaks, returned this week from San Francisco and the Russian River country, where they have been vacationing.

Mrs. Frank J. Mountain of 1124 Rancho Road, Santa Anita Oaks, has as her house guest Mrs. F. A. Marshall of Oakland and her two children Frances and Alfred.

Friends of Mrs. Richard Kern of 538 West Alegria avenue will be sorry to hear that she is ill in the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Mrs. Hazel James Ferguson of 75 North Baldwin avenue, and her house guest Mrs. Bessie Roe, who is visiting here from Alaska, spent Thursday at Long Beach, and will leave this weekend for San Francisco. Mrs. Ferguson will return to Sierra Madre about August 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Waverly Pratt of 359 North Grove Street and son Lorne spent Sunday in Long Beach with Mr. Pratt's mother, Mrs. E. E. Pratt, who was celebrating her birthday anniversary.

Miss Caroline Morrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morrow of 509 West Sierra Madre Blvd. returned Sunday from Denver, Colo., where she had been

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

IT MUST be a great relief to the people who go to bed early since the American-La France truck has undergone an engine operation. No more of that annoying backfiring that was so embarrassing for so many weeks.

One of the firemen happened to be talking to two of the councilmen one evening and one of the city dads sniffed and said, "I smell something burning." "That had better not be so, because it's after 9 o'clock!" the fireman was quick to respond, "for if it is, you men know what it will cost the city." No fire developed, unless it was under the councilman's car seat or hood, or at the end of the cigar he was puffing at. But there is a faint suspicion that maybe there was fire and the councilman put it out himself. Fire's Out.

Gale Hersey Wins Decision In CMTC Boxing Tourney

Gale Hersey who is in Co. E at the C.M.T. Camp, Presidio of Monterey, won a decision over Tom Cobb of Co. A at the CMTC boxing tourney Tuesday evening. Twelve bouts were staged in an elimination contest at the camp recreation center.

Intercollegiate rules are observed at these matches. No cheering or booing is allowed during the actual boxing and the bout is immediately stopped in the event that any of the boys participating suffer an injury. Fair play, good sportsmanship and close supervision characterize the conduct of these matches. A handsome trophy is to be awarded the outstanding boxer of the camp at the close of the tournament.

Hippert Buys Grove Street Property As Investment

John Hippert, former Pitts-burger, who has been busy reno-vating his lovely home at 484 Mariposa avenue, is the new owner of the bungalow at 185 Grove street which was sold at auction July 20. It was bought as an investment, Mr. Hippert said, and will be rented or sold, inasmuch as it is not large enough for the family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Hippert and two children, Ralph and Barbara.

"We didn't have the slightest idea of buying when we attended the sale," said Mr. Hippert, "but we thought it would be a good investment for the future."

"LOST" BOY WAS ONLY VISITING A FRIEND

Canyon Park was all wrought up over the "disappearance" of 13-year-old George Fuechs, North Hollywood, from the German club here Saturday night. The boy and his sister, Ruth, spent the day there with friends. In the evening George could not be found. A party searched fruitlessly until 11 in the evening when Ruth returned to her home. A group of CCC boys were to start out early Sunday morning to continue the search but the case was closed when a telephone call disclosed that George had spent the night at a boy friend's home.

Come On Folks, Join The Gang! The Big Game's About To Start.

Take Me Out to the Ball Game! Guy Kibbee and Joe E. Brown, who will head the Comedians' team when they meet the Leading Men of the screen in the big annual baseball game to be played at Wrigley Field in Los Angeles on Saturday afternoon, July 30, for the benefit of the Mt. Sinai Hospital and Clinic, are shown with two film beauties, mascots for the funny men, during a lull in a recent practice tilt. Insert, shows Dick Powell, who will captain the Leading Men. Every big name star in Hollywood will play ball in the spectacular game. Seats for the event are now available at the main ticket office, Southern California Music Company, 737 South Hill Street, Tucker 1144, and all branch offices.

Friends Invited To Parties See Rare Plants In Bloom

Night-blooming cereus in the gardens of Mrs. J. F. Harvey, 155 San Gabriel Court, and Miss Laura E. Cadmus, 601 Woodland Drive opened their petals Friday night before many interested visitors. These remarkable plants blossom and remain open for only one night during the year. Six blossoms appeared on Mrs. Harvey's eight-year old plant while Miss Cadmus plant, started from a small cutting, had its third blossom.

HIGH HONOR COMES TO BUCHAN RELATIVE

Mr. and Mrs. John Buchan of 677 W. Montecito avenue have just been informed of an unusual honor which came to their 24-year-old nephew, Alexander B. Wylie of Edinburgh School of Agriculture. Mr. Wylie has received the premier award which an architectural student of the British Isles can obtain, the Rome Scholarship, and is the first Scotch student to receive this recognition. His subject was a design for a large recreational center containing facilities for mental and physical relaxation. His completed drawing was 48 square feet in area.

TWO GREAT PICNICS

Indiana semi-annual picnic reunion will be held Sunday, July 31, at Sycamore Park, Los Angeles, under the auspices of the Indiana State Society. County registers will enable friends to find each other.

For the "Hawkeyes" of the whole west, all roads will lead to Bixby Park, Long Beach, all day, Saturday, August 13th. Rallying from hundreds of western cities and towns, representing a thousand Iowa cities, towns and hamlets the Iowans will hold their annual summer picnic reunion in "Iowa's Western Capitol," Long Beach. Plans have been made to care for over a hundred thousand people and each county will have its own section and open registration headquarters.

YOUR HOME AND MINE

BY ANNE WILSON

One of the greatest joys of being a homemaker is to receive compliments on the foods you prepare. Nothing warms a woman's heart in quite the same way, and when guests ask you for your recipe, then you know that you have attained the peak of cooking artistry. Here is a recipe for an exceptional conserve which will win you new laurels. It is for a rich delicacy to be served on special occasions, when you want to impress someone with your skill as a hostess.

Harlequin Conserve

25 yellow peaches
10 red plums
1 large can crushed pineapple
2 oranges
1 pound white grapes
½ pound blanched almonds
Choose the finest peaches you can find. Wash all fresh fruits thoroughly. Peel peaches and plums and cut into small pieces. Halve and seed grapes, and slice oranges thin. Put all fruits together and cook over a slow heat until soft and well blended, then measure. Add sugar in the proportion of ¼ cup sugar for each cupful of fruit. Cook slowly 20 minutes. Add chopped almonds and continue cooking very slowly, stirring occasionally, until the conserve is thick and clear. This will require two hours or longer.

Bowl Program Will Feature Music Of Cineland

World premiere of music of the cinema, conducted by Boris Morros, the return of the celebrated violinist, Jascha Heifetz, and the second week of Artur Rodzinski are the features of Hollywood Bowl's third week of Symphonies under the Stars, starting Tuesday, August 2.

Mr. Morros, musical director of Paramount studios, will bring to the Bowl stage a glittering array of artists and will present music composed expressly for motion pictures. The world's most famous dancers; Renee and Tony DeMarco; the duo pianists, Fray and Braggiotti; John Barrymore, Ronald Colman, Basil Rathbone, Cecil B. DeMille, Edward G. Robinson, as narrators and the beautiful Hope Hampton as vocalist, are among the notable features of the program.

Thursday and Friday Dr. Rodzinski has programmed works of Weber, Scriabin, Debussy, Albeniz, and Ravel. Heifetz will be seen Friday night, August 5.

Thou caldest in trouble, and I delivered thee.—Ps. lxxi.7.

And to stand turned to a patient, meek, humble resignation to God, when your own impatience, wrath, pride, and irritation attack yourself, is a higher and more beneficial performance of this duty, than when you stand turned to meekness and patience, when attacked by the pride, or wrath, or disorderly passions of other people.—Wm. Law.

STRIKE UP THE BAND

Backed by the facts and figures of research and investigation, a report has just come out of Washington to indicate that the high-spirited cry of "Depression's over!" may be backed by sounder stuff than the upward flutter of stock market quotations. In what has been called "the most useful economic study made in America during the depression," the Brookings Institute has just gone on record with a suggested list of antidotes for industry's economic maladjustments, antidotes which today seem to be taking effect.

What is the basic cause of depression? The ability of industry to produce faster than the public can buy, says the Brookings report. What is the best solution of that problem? Increase of the public's capacity to buy—not by confiscatory taxes, government spending nor artificially boosted wages—but by a sustained policy of price cutting.

The growing power of industry is limited by the buying power of the nation. As prices fall, more people can buy more goods. As more people buy, more goods will be produced. But that upward trend can be halted by unwarranted wage demands. If wages boom excessively, the cost of production rises the price of the finished product, and the actual buying power of the worker's pay-check drops.

A NEW RECORD

With registration now closed for the August 30 primary, the figures indicate California will turn out the largest vote in State history—if all those qualified vote. Which is the paradoxical thing about democracies.

Under a dictator where votes seldom change anything, nearly everybody votes. Under a democracy where votes count, far from the majority votes. And if we fail to keep our registration in order, we don't have any vote at all! Which is worse.

But politics has ever had its paradoxes. The courts have intersected a paradox of their own last week that a person whose 21st birthday is on August 31 may vote on August 30. One's legal birthday arrives a full 24 hours ahead of the natal day—that's the legal ruling. While politics rule the waves, paradoxes will waive the rules!

TAXPAYERS TURN

It won't be long now—till Californians know the size of the bill they must foot for the 1938-39 county tax budgets.

By July 30, the county auditor will have filed the complete proposed budget with the board of supervisors' clerk. But the uneasy can take heart. The tax rate is not definitely set until September 1. There is still time for them to take the floor. With the costs of running government still skyrocketing there is imperative need for them to do so. The temptation is strong, in official circles, to slap on higher rates or to tap new sources of revenue—if possible!

Already we find Washington Treasury experts today studying the advisability of upping taxes on the little man. Recently in California this drive for more revenue at all costs was all too evident in the proposal to add another cent to the present four-cent tax on gasoline. It has been wisely pointed out that the motor vehicle is already subjected to the heaviest tax burden of any class of property in California. Further taxes on motor fuels may well exceed our capacity to pay and there is little justification for inflicting more taxes on motorists.

Fortunately, taxpayers now

The...
Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

MARY AUSTIN has been very present in our thoughts. THE Mary Austin. Who wrote Land of Little Rain. We spent a wonderful evening with her a few years ago in New York. Leaving in our heart an impression—how shall we put it?—like that, say, of some lone mountain seen at sunset. Glorified. Mysterious. There in front of you not for long—bound shortly to disappear—into the region of stars and ghosts. Something about her, even then, to suggest, as you might say, an Indian Goetterdaemernung—a New Mexican Twilight of the Gods.

WE'D met her at Georgia DeMille's—daughter of Henry George and herself a great lady. Just after we'd returned from another long spell in Europe. Where the only news that came from America, it seemed, had to do with sin, the movies, and garish bad ghosts. Until you despaired of ever teaching the rest of the world that No, America was NOT like that. So that, nowadays, when we see the so-called news that comes from other lands we also despair. For we know that neither are THEY like that.

ANYWAY, here we were, back in New York. And such a New York. One of those two-story studio apartments just off Central Park. Crisp Autumn, and the trees of the Park singing Hail Columbia in duns and scarlets, and gold. The studio spacious as a church and filled with the loveliest people—strangely, all American: Neal Blair, Fannie Hurst, four young Indian chiefs, actors, opera-singers, someone who'd been to the South Pole, a governor of the New York Zoo. Some of the sweetest girls—the Smiths, the Vassars, type of friends of the DeMille girls with looks, and mother-wit, friendliness. Until ourself we sang—in the scarlet silence of our heart. And what we sang was Our Country 'Tis of Thee. This was America. We were—home!

BUT Mary Austin. She was interested for a while in talking to those young Indian chiefs. They looked like Harvard and Yale—in manners, dress, handsome boys; from some Northern Plains tribe, or tribes; with an academic skill in the Sign Language of their elders. Which interested Mary Austin, because her own sign manual, learned from her Indians of the far Southwest, varied slightly from the Northern habit. Even the physical effort of the sign-talk was a bit too much for her, though, it seemed. She was still to live for several years. But you could tell—as she herself could and did: Her sun—it was going down—behind the mesa.

YOU see, just now we've been reading that book of hers—one of her last, if not the last: Experiences Facing Death. And finding in it so much that was touched on, painted, projected against this earth and sky, that last time we talked together. Rather, let us hasten to say, the last time that we listened to her talk. Although we told her a story. About a lady. Who'd lost a child. By an act of her own. Before the child was born. And how the child came back to her—in response to some agony of prayer; came back in the spirit—a spirit-child who grew and took on stature, and instructed her, and kept the lonely woman company. . . . Mary Austin said: "Women will understand your story."

IN this book we're now reading we come again on so much she told us that night in connection with our parable. Derived, she said, in part from a talk she'd once had with a Priest of the Bow at one of the Rio Grande pueblos. How much of our white-man sorrows follow our failure to placate the souls of those we slay—slay literally or figuratively; our failure to atone by, as the priest put it, "adopting them into our tribe"—as ghost to ghost; for man himself, and all the tribes of men, are—what? MOSTLY GHOST. That memorable evening Mary Austin also told us—and, actually, we can still hear her quiet, humorous voice: "I say my prayers." Worth reading, Mary Austin. Look her up some time. Join her, perhaps, if you're ready, on her mystic way.

SEEMS almost, as we write of her that we can see her, following her mystic way, back of the sunset now; into the land where all the gold and glory of every sunset comes from. Sunset. You know. On the other side—seen from the East—it's a dawn. Everything like that. Everything one. So Jalalu'ddin, the Sufi poet and mystic: "I have put duality away. I have seen that the two worlds are one." Often, often, it's a feeling—it's a conviction—that comes to us. When we meet a friend. When we hear a bird sing. When we look at a flower or lift our eyes to the hills. This is heaven. Who knows? Maybe you yourself have made someone feel like that. Cheer up!

have their say during the next four weeks. County budgets are ready for their scrutiny, their criticisms, and their recommendations. Let the taxpayer take the floor!

The WEEKLY
CONSTITUTIONAL
by MAX BERNIS
No Ruling Class

What are the qualifications for election to the Senate?

Article I of our Constitution provides that "no person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen."

The age limit is higher than and the requirement for citizenship in the United States is longer than that for members of the House of Representatives. But any citizen with these qualifications may be elected to the Senate. There is no requirement of aristocracy or wealth or high office as is commonly required for the upper house of most ruling bodies. In our Congress there is no such difference between the Senate and the House of Representatives as between the House of Lords and the House of Commons in the English Parliament.

There likewise is no reference to sex. And therefore a woman may serve in either house.

In these and in other respects, there is no "ruling class" in this country. Under our Constitution, any man or woman is eligible for election as Representative or Senator with the simple qualifications of age and years of citizenship, and in the case of President, birth in the United States.

This is one of the phases of our Constitution that makes this, more than any other government in the world, a "government of the people, by the people, for the people."

LETTERS
from ReadersTWO MORE GRADES AT SCHOOL URGED

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:

We recently had occasion to visit friends in Alhambra, young folks with children of school age and had pointed out to us among other things the fact that their neighborhood school has all grades up to and including the eighth. This was one of their first considerations in buying a home.

We have often heard regrets on the lack of the seventh and eighth grades at our own school, though Sierra Madre has the finest school otherwise it has been our privilege to see.

As the parents of one small daughter of eleven who has completed all classes previously available here we are very much interested in seeing these grades extended. We do not think it is a good plan to send small children away from home on a crowded bus to a crowded school in another city.

We wish to commend the school board and especially Edwin Ward for taking the initiative in providing for a seventh grade in the local school next September. This is a good step in the right direction and should be continued by adding an eighth grade the year following so that Sierra Madre children may be prepared for high school here at our own unsurpassed school.

THAT OTHER HALF

Our greatest laugh this week came with the reading of a "Letter to the Editor" appearing in the Bulletin last week. Harry E. Tuller, writer signing off as an attorney-at-law, after making many laudatory remarks about a candidate for justice of the peace, added this postscript: "P.S. Half the lies told about Wolford are false."

We will look forward to the next issue of the paper to find out about the other half.

Case and Comment

By Charles B. Showalter

(Editor's Note: The opinions expressed herein are those of Mr. Showalter and do not necessarily reflect the attitude or opinions of THE NEWS.)

THERE are just two schools of thought in American politics today and the thinking voter must align himself accordingly. The unthinking will, of course, follow the bandwagon. One faction, represented by the New Deal, believes, or pretends to believe, that the nation's business, industrial, financial and agricultural systems are enemies of the social welfare and therefore must be lashed and controlled—that they must be exploited and bled white for the benefit of the so-called underprivileged.

This school of thought would gear the entire national economy to the fancied needs of the unsuccessful and the unfit. It is the policy of defeatism and ultimate ruin. Its chief weakness lies in its obvious transitoriness. Any policy not based on a long range view will defeat itself and end in collapse, as this must and will—when the limit of credit is reached. And that limit is near at hand.

As opposed to this school of politics there are those who believe that the business, industrial, financial and agricultural systems are the only agencies through which the material foundation of social and spiritual progress can be laid. They believe that the major problems of the American people can be solved by business and not by politics—that we must set going again and use to the full our economic system for the maximum production and human use of goods and services.

Until we do this all our social planning, all our so-called social reforms, will end in just nothing. No decent workman wants the dole or WPA employment, for if he thinks, he must know that it offers nothing for the future, and when it ends, as end it must for lack of funds, then in the absence of a working and workable economic system starvation is his only alternative. For the present he has surrendered his political liberty in exchange for these false promises of economic security. He has traded security for bread and circuses.

Economic security will never be found in state management or state aid. They are the device of the politician to perpetuate himself. When men seek opportunity rather than security, all will be more secure. And it is the height of folly to look for either opportunity or security except in a prosperous and thriving business and industrial system.

Our present political leadership takes the opposite view and believes it can do the most good for the greatest number of New Dealers by sabotaging the business structure that creates employment and giving the swag to the indolent and the shiftless.

The most pressing problem before the American people, one filled with gravest dangers for the future of the Republic, is the problem of unemployment and nothing is being done to meet it. Rather the reverse is true.

If the taxes taken out of business and industry were made equitable and reasonable there would be no unemployment and consequently no need for relief. A study of tax figures released by the Treasury reveals that the Federal tax on most large corporations and businesses has more than doubled since 1933. Taxes on corporations during 1937 averaged $291 per stockholder and $514 per employee, and exceeded dividends by 34 per cent.

A study of 150 corporations by the American Association of Investors reveals that these corporations had 6,000,000 stockholders, and assets of $41,000,000. They paid in Federal taxes $1,600,000,000—equivalent to $2.62 per share of stock. Their dividends averaged $1.95 per share. This does not include their various local tax burdens payable to state, county and municipality.

The above tax picture explains the reluctance of private capital to promote and expand in business. When capital takes risks it must insist on some prospect of profit. Capital is just as unwilling to work without wages as is labor. Excessive taxation, restrictions, meddling and threats of worse to come have made the prospect of reasonable profits very dim.

The Los Angeles Times hits the nail squarely on the head. "Had the New Deal kept its promises of 1932 and reduced taxes a large part of this $1,600,000,000 would have been available to put men to work; half or two-thirds of it could have been so used and would have been, in all probability. For this sum is enough to pay wages on $30,000,000,000 to $40,000,000,000; investment of even $20,000,000,000 would take up all the unemployment slack."

Father Sage says: It's bad enough to lose money in the stock market, without having to confess the details of our stupidity to the income tax collector.

TAXPAYERS ARE URGED TO GET A FOOT IN THE DOOR, TOOBy RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

EVERY doctor who administers habit-forming drugs to help a patient over a period of crisis recognizes that he must exercise the greatest possible prudence and discretion to avert disastrous consequences.

And public relief officials are beginning to learn by tragic, disheartening experience that economic opiates are equally dangerous.

Serious as the narcotic problem may be, dole-addiction is far more dangerous to the welfare of California and the nation today than dole-addiction was at its worst.

Thoughtful Californians, anxious to avert a complete breakdown of fundamental standards, have much to ponder, for there are danger signals on every hand.

Twice, within recent weeks, strikers, who quit their jobs voluntarily—and whose jobs were open, if they desired them—have staged sit-down strikes in headquarters of the State Relief Administration in an effort to force compliance with their demands for relief payments.

In both instances, Relief Administrator Harold L. Pomeroy has stood firm, serving notice on the strikers that no state dole can be paid to those who refuse to take available employment. But the fact remains that in scores of other cases men who refused to work have been supported on relief rolls at the expense of taxpayers already overburdened with caring for the needy and unemployed. Federal relief agencies, in repeated instances, have financed strikes and encouraged workers to quit their jobs by paying strikers from the public treasury.

As a consequence, the number of strikes has doubled and trebled and tax bills have catapulted to new highs. And as a further consequence, WPA workers have organized their own union—the Workers Alliance of America, with 1300 locals in 46 states—and have laid siege to the government, demanding wage increases.

"The question of wage increases for 2,600,000 low-paid WPA workers," declares David Lasser, Socialist organizer-president of the Alliance, "is a major need of the hour."

California taxpayers, if they expect to escape bankruptcy, need to make their influence felt both in California and in Washington. The relief union boasts that it is getting into "politics" with both feet. Perhaps taxpayers need a foot in the door, too!

Manitoba, Canada, has adopted the most drastic law on the continent which has reduced fatalities due to drunken driving by 75 per cent. It provides for a compulsory seven-day jail sentence, requires that the offender's car be impounded for three months and demands suspension of the offender's license for six months.

Californians last year paid 28 per cent more income tax than they did the year before, according to State Controller Harry B. Riley, who thinks times can't be so bad after all. Riley closed the State's books on June 30, nearly $21,500,000 had been received from this source. "Figures like these don't lie," says Riley. "Nobody pays more income tax unless he is making more money."

An important decision in a tax case was handed down by Superior Court Judge Kenny Tuesday when he decided against Rancho Santa Anita's suit to recover $3,922 paid in taxes under protest to the City of Arcadia a year ago. The Rancho contended Arcadia's tax rate for municipal purposes of $1.70 was $1.53 in excess of the city's actual need, that all the taxes were 17 cents in excess of assessed valuation. The decision in the Rancho Santa Anita case automatically dismissed other suits brought in the names of Anita M. Baldwin, Rosebud Doble Mullander, and the Los Angeles Turf Club as trustee for the estate of Estelle Davis. Their claims for refund totaled $32,186.

There have been 121 major inventions within the past 60 years. All of them now producing industrial equipment and employing thousands of workers.

Rubber experts estimate tire users got $9.57 more value in extra mileage for their money in 1937 than in 1929. Likewise the worker who made the tire is receiving a 36 per cent higher hourly wage rate and the tire is assessed 70 cents more in taxes than in 1929.

The amendment that California ratified a quarter of a century ago along with 41 other states has today been called into service to draft thousands of her state employees into the ranks of taxpayers—where the rest of us have been serving time for years. Last week's far-reaching opinion of the Justice Department, giving carte blanche to legislation applying the Federal income tax to state bondholders, officers and employees, took its inspiration from the Sixteenth Amendment authorizing Congress to tax income "from whatever source." So moves one step nearer its goal, issue in the primary campaigns and the November elections. Our organization is in the political campaigns with both feet. . . .

And to give force to his demands, Mr. Lasser warns that his union has 400,000 dues-paying members and 400,000 more who don't pay dues now, but who doubtless will if some government agency can be induced to part with the money.

Already successful in securing pay-increases for WPA workers in 13 Southern States, the reliefers' union now wants a $10 a month wage increase in District 11, comprising Kansas, Missouri, West Virginia, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia and part of Texas.

It is an amazing picture—an amazing commentary on how far the United States has drifted from sound standards. With every man added to the relief rolls and every pay-increase granted, the relief union gains in political power and in its capacity to add more men to the relief rolls.

Meanwhile, new refugees continue to pour into California at a rate of more than 10,000 per month—120,000 per year—and the pressure for bigger relief payments and bigger pensions increases in direct ratio.

California taxpayers may well give heed to the recent warning sounded by the Kern County Board of Supervisors. Said the Board, in a formal protest to the federal government:

"The continued migration of tens of thousands of indigent unemployed and unemployables from other states to California is creating social and economic problems that threaten the very foundations of our state."

Then, training its guns on the Farm Security Administration, the Kern County Board declared: "These people are encouraged to migrate to and remain in the State of California by an extended term by the Farm Security Administration, pending such times as they become eligible under California law for public assistance."

California taxpayers, if they expect to escape bankruptcy, need to make their influence felt both in California and in Washington. The relief union boasts that it is getting into "politics" with both feet. Perhaps taxpayers need a foot in the door, too!

What a restless, wandering lot we Californians are, with absolutely no regard for distance. The figures for July will be astounding if those of June are any indication of the traveling vacationists are doing this year. In June motorists used 154,807,576 gallons of gasoline on which they paid a state tax of $4,644,227. And for the first six months of the year they paid a gas tax of $24,997,853. And we are supposed to have been in a recession.

When a man worries, he worries with every cell and organ in his body. Those pounding emotions of fear lash the heart, brain, thyroid, and nervous system into a fury of activity. When a man worries, he pays nature's penalty for the benefits of civilization. Worry is a modern disease. Our ancestors argued like brutes, fought and killed like brutes, and died like brutes. When a man worries, he plants the seeds of disease in his body. Modern medicine has learned to conquer the plagues that harassed primitive man, but in their places have sprung up the diseases of civilization—heart trouble, peptic ulcers, glandular disturbances, nervous and mental disorders. And the greatest single cause of these modern plagues, says Dr. George Crile of the American College of Surgeons, is—WORRY!

A Washington correspondent with a statistical turn of mind has added up the number of bills and resolutions introduced in the last Congress. It reached the stupendous total of 17,092. Multiply that figure by the volume of pressure exerted by each and every pressure group in behalf of each and every one of those 17,092 measures, and then remember Congress applied the air brakes to make over 15,000 stop dead in their tracks. Only one measure in ten ran safely through the congressional gauntlet, making a total of 1700 laws passed. Not all of these would win the blue ribbon of merit, but compared with some of those which were emphatically rejected, it appears that the American Congress is still holding its own among the world's law-making bodies. Among the governments of the earth, democracy is still the high-scorer!

Deadline Nears On Tax Moratorium; Ends August 20

With only about three weeks remaining to pay delinquent taxes without penalties or to take advantage of the 10-pay installment plan to pay them, Los Angeles county officials are anticipating a rushing business between now and the deadline, set for August 20.

H. L. Byram, county tax collector, reported that payments showed a sharp upturn during June, as compared with June of 1937. Total payments for last month were $304,833, as compared with only $121,863 for June of 1937.

Petitions now being checked indicate many persons are planning to take advantage of the installment plan, a distinct boon to hard-pressed taxpayers.

The 10-payment plan was extended for but four months beyond the previously-fixed deadline by the special session.

Wild Creatures Of The Forest Common About The City, Residents Report

Recent publication of a story in THE NEWS about a mountain lion frequenting backyards in the northern section of the city and the appearance throughout the community of an unusual number of wild things out of the mountains has brought out many stories concerning the experiences of local residents. There is a difference of opinion, however, as to the cause of the presence of so many creatures of the forest.

The most commonly accepted theory is that the mountain lion, or lions, have scared the smaller animals, including foxes, and that they have sought hiding places in backyards and orchards believing themselves more secure than in the Angelus forest.

Perley Poore Sheehan tells of having seen a pair of young foxes playing like puppies on a lawn in Alegria avenue recently and to have seen many foxes and other animals on the lower part of the trails leading out of the city into the mountains.

Louis Karger tells of foxes nesting on a tin roof right above the boiler room at the Kentia Palm Nursery, where he is employed. They sleep there during Bus Safety Award Winner Says "Drive as if Other Guy Crazy"

In 21 years of bus driving, covering 1,850,000 miles, Interstate Driver Haselwood never has had an accident.

Slogan Helps Veteran to Near 2,000,000-Mile No-Accident Mark

His own traffic safety slogan, "Drive like the other guy was crazy," supplementing his company's manual of safe driving rules, is the reason that Ernest R. "Pop" Haselwood has won the "Nation's Safest Bus Driver" award, he declares.

In 21 years of bus driving, the last eight of which have been with the Interstate Transit-Union Pacific Stages lines, which operates through this territory, Haselwood has covered more than 1,850,000 miles without causing the slightest accident.

He began his unusual career on his own one-man bus line in the Pacific Northwest in 1916. The magazine, Bus Transportation, sponsored the contest, and awarded Haselwood a 17-jewel watch.

His work has won national recognition even before this contest, and his driving practices considered a model.

Haselwood's customary run is from Cheyenne, Wyo., where he lives, to North Platte, Nebr., a distance of 219 miles. Forty-four years old, he intends to continue driving buses for a long time, and he is certain he can maintain his non-accident record by application of the principle he coined, "Drive like the other guy was crazy."

What is this thing called a
kilowatt-hour?

* Most people know that a kilowatt-hour (KWH) has something to do with their electric bill, but beyond that the word is a mystery. The kilowatt-hour is used in the electrical industry to measure electricity just as the dairyman uses quarts to measure milk. The diagrams on this page will help you understand just what a kilowatt-hour is and what it means to you in terms of useful service.

A watt-hour is the amount of energy needed to lift a 1 lb. weight 2654 feet.

A watt-hour is too small a unit for convenient measurement, so we use the kilowatt-hour which is 1000 watt-hours.

A kilowatt-hour is equal to 1000 watts being continuously utilized for a period of 1 hour. Thus one 100-watt lamp burning for 10 hours would consume 1 kilowatt-hour.

1 kilowatt-hour is equivalent to 13 men working for one hour.

The average home consumes 50 kilowatt-hours a month—equal to 650 man hours of labor. If you paid this man only 25c an hour, it would cost you $162.50. Yet the average family pays $2.50 or less for an equivalent service.

ENJOY PICNIC IN COUNTY'S GREAT NEW PARK

Mrs. W. H. Maloney of 459 Ramona avenue was hostess Saturday evening at a gay picnic which she gave at Santa Anita recreation center for the husbands and children of the members of her bridge club. Forty-two guests were present and enjoyed the many modern recreational facilities of this splendidly equipped new county park, then gathered under a huge oak tree where supper was served. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John G. Russell of 281 Ramona avenue.

MRS. UDELL IS GIVEN TWO PARTIES ON BIRTHDAY

One of the most delightful events of the summer, a garden tea honoring Mrs. A. M. Udell of 154 San Gabriel Court on her birthday anniversary, was given by Mrs. Etta Wright under the beautiful Wistaria Vine in the garden of her home at 233 Santa Anita Court. Brightly colored Japanese lanterns hanging from the green canopy of the vine gave the garden a festive appearance, and the asters and shasta daisies which decorated the tea table were a charming note in the natural beauty of the setting.

Twenty-five guests brought greetings to Mrs. Udell and shared the two delicious birthday cakes, then joined in a short session of games which was followed by a short talk of Mrs. Wright on the unique characteristics of the 12 or more capital cities where she has lived. Upon returning to her home Mrs. Udell was surprised to find 12 guests awaiting her with another cake and all preparations for a surprise dinner party well under way. Following dinner everyone joined in a game of bridge, then Mrs. Vernon Udell receiving first prize, Mrs. Joseph Swanson second, and Mr. Swanson, third.

ORIENTAL ATMOSPHERE AT TEA OF OKAMOTOS

Many distinguished guests were present for afternoon tea at the home of Chobun and Mrs. Yonezo Okamoto of 336 Sturtevant Drive Friday afternoon. Mrs. Okamoto, charming in her native dress, poured and was pleased with the many expressions of appreciation for Japanese Osushi which she also served. The tea table was decorated with talliesman roses and white shasta daisies. Among the 20 guests were Mrs. J. N. McEachern, Sr., of Atlanta, Ga., president of the National Council of Federated Church Women; Dr. M. K. W. Heicher, pastor of the Westminister Presbyterian Church of Pasadena and Mrs. Heicher; Dr. W. E. Cook of UCLA and Mrs. Cook, and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McDonald of Pasadena.

SEILINGS CELEBRATE 23RD BIRTHDAY

Twenty-seven friends of Mr. and Mrs. Oskar Seiling gathered in the garden of their home at 500 Adams street on the occasion of their 23rd wedding anniversary which was celebrated with an informal supper party Sunday evening. Bowls of bright zinnias reflected the spirit of gaiety that prevailed throughout the evening which culminated in the very clever comedy sketches which were given by Dr. and Mrs. Henry Scott Rubel. Those attending the affair were: Rev. and Mrs. Henry Scott Rubel, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Zobelein, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Roth, Mr. and Mrs. James Webb, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lewis, Mrs. Jack Mosher, Miss Beulah Barnes, Robert Alter.

Miss Francesca Rotoli, Mr. Mario Dominic, Miss Alice Wright, William Roberts, A. L. Barnes, Mrs. Maude Basford, Mrs. Henrietta Isaacs, Dr. L. L. Krebs, Mr. Arthur Alexander, Miss Orlene Burrow, Dr. Ernest T. Fox, and Miss Madeline Lee who takes the role of Miss Blue on the Amos and Andy broadcast.

SEPTEMBER BRIDE-TO-BE HONORED AT DINNER

The charming dining pavilion at the Wistaria Vine Gardens was the setting for an informal dinner party Sunday evening given by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Billheimer of 37 Suffolk avenue in honor of Miss Margaret Kershaw of Long Beach who will become the bride of their son, Dr. Phillip Murdoch, in September. Twenty-five members of the Billheimer family from neighboring cities were present and joined in the musical activities which followed dinner.

The dinner table which was laid with yellow and blue service was attractively decorated with bright zinnias and a special low bouquet of white roses was arranged for Miss Kershaw.

Dr. Phillip Murdoch was graduated from Caltech in 1933 and is now assistant manager of the Shell Development Research Laboratories at Long Beach where the young couple will make their home following their wedding. Mrs. W. J. Lawless who is en route to Seattle, wired her greetings to the group.

MOOTES ENTERTAIN FOR BERKELEY VISITORS

A charming dinner party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. R. Moote of 689 West Sierra Madre Blvd. last Wednesday evening, for Mr. and Mrs. W. William Davis of Berkeley, California, and Mrs. Davis parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Chester White. A centerpiece of gardenias in a low white bowl adorned the table in honor of Mrs. Davis who was married early in June. Mr. Davis is a member of the faculty at Berkeley.

JUNIOR WOMEN'S DANCE INCENTIVE FOR PARTIES

Three of the delightful events that preceded the Cotton and Cord Dance given by the juniors of the Sierra Madre Women's Club Saturday evening were, a grilled steak supper at the home of Miss Genevieve Paschal, 310 East Highland avenue to which 14 members of the younger set were bidden; a buffet supper at the home of Miss Muriel Tarr, of 274 West Montecito avenue, and a pre-dance party given by Mr. and Mrs. William Schwartz of 282 East Highland avenue. The dance was well attended and was a complete success in every detail.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wilson of San Gabriel, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kindy of 78 South Hermosa avenue were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Lees Saturday for a barbecue in the garden of their home at 74 East Sierra Madre Blvd.

Twenty-five members of the Junior Children's Society of the Bethany Church enjoyed a happy evening Friday, when they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards at a barbecue and wicker roast in the garden of their home at 307 Mariposa avenue.

Mrs. Waverly Pratt of 359 North Grove street and her mother, Mrs. Mary Warren Hicks, were the dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Roy L. Smith of Los Angeles Friday evening. Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Hughes, Dr. and Mrs. Walter B. Horn, and Robert L. Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scott entertained 30 guests at a swimming-tennis-and barbecue party which they gave in the garden of their home at 1200 Rancho Road, Santa Anita Oaks, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Willich of Balboa.

One of the gayest recent dancing parties, was an old time barn dance at the Woman's clubhouse Tuesday evening, given under the direction of Bob Ward. For the occasion the club house was decorated with bales of hay, and sacking which replaced the window drapes. Everyone attend was costumed, and Mr. Ward provided extra costumes for those who came more formally dressed.

Miss Kathleen Moote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. R. Moote of 689 West Sierra Madre Blvd., was hostess at an informal luncheon at her home Wednesday. Among the guests were Mrs. Fred Gunnis of Los Angeles, and Mrs. May Rheinhardt of Pasadena.

Mrs. George Seeley, 255 North Adams street, entertained Tuesday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Jane Tritlett, one of Sierra Madre's pioneers, who celebrated her 78th birthday. Mrs. Tritlett claims a very distinguished ancestry, being related to Alexander Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Schwartz of 282 East Highland avenue spent Sunday in La Habra Heights with Mrs. Schwartz' parents Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Hart. The gathering was the occasion of Mrs. Hart's birthday anniversary.

Professional Women From Metropolis Visitors Here

Mrs. Ralph Solary of East Sierra Madre Blvd. has been entertaining five guests from Gouverneur, N.Y., for the past week, and has been busily engaged in taking them to Southern California's many points of interest. The party comprised Miss Katherine Leahy, Miss Mary Cassidy, Miss Helene Johnston, Miss Wilcox and Miss Abbot. The party had traveled 4600 miles before reaching Sierra Madre, and plan to visit Oregon, Washington and Alaska before returning to New York where each is engaged in a professional field.

CITY IS HAILED AS AMERICA'S GARDEN OF EDEN BY NOTED NEW YORK WRITER

Ideal Community For Creative Artists She Says In Verse Dedicated To Town

Madame Jessie Ward Haywood, a member of New York's literary circle, who has been visiting her niece Mrs. Helene Smith of 627 Alta Vista Drive for the past week, is so charmed with Sierra Madre she has dedicated a verse to the city which she calls America's Garden of Eden.

Mme. Haywood whose appearance at Steinway Hall as poet-interpreter have received wide acclaim, believes that Sierra Madre is the ideal community for creative artists. During her stay here she enjoyed renewing an old friendship with Ralph Cheyney, with whom she was associated many years ago in New York City. Mme. Haywood is now at work on her second book of poems which will soon be published. She is the wife of Fredrich H. Haywood of the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N.Y., who has come to the coast as vocal instructor to the members of the musical faculty at Berkeley.

He also maintains a studio in Hollywood, and is pleased to number among his successful students, Orville Harold, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

The verse dedicated to Sierra Madre by Mme. Haywood follows: SIERRA MADRE—AMERICA'S GARDEN OF EDEN

Stricken dumb by beauty, my brain fumbles for a word.

No word responds to my aching need.

This Eden of flowers, fruit, trees, canyons and high Sierras leave me silenced.

Here I have found wisdom in action, the raucous sound of the cinema music is debarred from your sacred precincts. One trolley line is sufficient. One block, devoted to shops, supplying material needs.

Few noisome trucks assail the sensitive ears of creative artists who dwell in simplicity, amid this scene of grandeur, and without hate or envy, enjoy the vision and off-times hospitality of the gracious homes, surrounded by all nature's glories and the material beauty and art of man. Sierra Madre, America's Garden of Eden, (I salute you).

ly good) and hid themselves to the hot dog and beer counters. The Sheriff, always a showman, left no doubt in the mind of anyone that he is up for re-election this year.

Seems it used to be a mark of respect to wear high silk (plug) hats when the President of the USA was being entertained. The great and those who just wanted to be considered so wore the top-hats, but the absence of a solitary person when President Roosevelt visited the Southland the other day has been the subject of widespread comment. A columnist in the South Pasadena Pothill Review who rode with the presidential party in L. A. wrote about it this way:

"Surely the times are decadent! There was not a single silk hat in sight. One distinguished old fellow turned out in a morning coat and striped trousers; but he compromised by wearing his Panama. Another member of the old school was there in his double-breasted blue serge, winged collar, and black tie. The rest of the folks just wore what they had handy—the admirals their cocked hats and gold-braid, the Indian chief his buffalo horns and eagle feathers, the Texas cow-girl her 10-gallon hat. United States Marshall Clark his black sombrero, and the rest of the boys wore their everyday clothes, some with handkerchiefs in their coat pockets and some without."

Her eyes dance, too, as she vividly describes the picture and tells you of the life and customs of the people of the far North. She is visiting an old Juneau friend, Mrs. Hazel James Ferguson, now of North Baldwin avenue and the day she told us about her experiences was one of the warmest of the year. She was delighted that she was able to wear the sheer summery dresses that are the joy of every woman's heart—for the first time in many years. But her enthusiasm over those summers "above the circle" was contagious and we wished we were right in the land she was describing then and there. Dog sleds answered the purpose of automobiles, which are useless even in Southern Alaska during the winter months. Eskimos supply the domestic help of the white population and there is an Eskimo girl in nearly every household. They know their way to the trading posts in the worst storms, Mrs. Roe tells us, and can be depended upon to keep the larder filled no matter what the weather. Girls so employed at the envy of their kind and consider themselves the superior of even their families. They are cheerful, loyal, appreciative of every little kindness and quick to know those who have an interest in and a kindly feeling toward them.

Raymond Haight as a candidate for governor was a complete flop with seven women with whom I played bridge the other evening. When he was announced for a speech over the radio the party was exactly evenly divided as to whether he should be heard or tuned out. But it was decided that we'd take a little of his speech. Eventually he was silenced because he was "too hateful" . . . his voice too rasping . . . he was too critical of his opponents without telling what he proposed to do to better conditions he complained so bitterly about in the event of his own elevation to office. . . . If we were Mr. Haight and wanted to be elected as badly as he seems to want to be, we'd shun the radio or cultivate a more happy campaign attitude.

And on the subject of candidates for office, we wonder what can be in the minds of most of them who hire expensive press agents and spend endlessly for postage on reams and reams of puffery addressed to newspaper editors that is headed straight for the waste baskets the very minute it is slipped into an envelope. Enough of this lost effort and wasted energy comes into the News office every day to fill three or four waste baskets. Just why candidates delude themselves into believing that editors will try the patience of their readers by filling their columns with the laudatory guff of their staffs is beyond us. You'd be surprised how quickly it finds its way into the bigger and better editors' waste baskets.

And we're still trying to figure out how long it took to clean up Santa Anita racing park after Sheriff Biscailuz' campaign barbecue on Sunday. . . . We were one of the estimated 70,000. Thousands couldn't take the blazing sun and broke out of the long lines waiting to be served of the barbecue (which was uncommon-

23 Counties Will Be Represented At This Year's Fair

Bringing with them a wave of activity extending far beyond the borders of California, intensive preparations for the 17th annual Los Angeles County Fair combined with Riverside and Orange County Fairs were in full swing today as a crew of 400 men rushed to completion the portion of a $1,000,000 development program to be finished for this year's exposition. The fair opens Friday, September 16 and continues through Sunday, October 2.

Twenty-three counties have already signified their intention to participate. In each of these counties men are busily at work, for competition in the elaborate features promises to be keener than ever. This will be the largest number of counties ever to participate. Their entrance is made possible by the fact that industrial exhibits, formerly occupying considerable space in the horticultural building, will be in another building. Counties listed to date are Alameda, Orange, Santa Barbara, Glenn, Yuba, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Colusa, Sacramento, Butte, Plumas, Mono, Solano, Sutter, Tuolumne, Lassen, Siskiyou, Tulare, Ventura, San Bernardino, Riverside and San Diego. Several of these are members of Alta California, Inc., which is to bring an exhibit of the state's mineral wealth.

Miss Wayne Garde of Seattle is the houseguest of Miss Ella Sheppard Bush at 233 West Laurel avenue. Miss Bush and Miss Garde left early in the week for a vacation at Laguna Beach.

Penney's Monrovia Store Enlarged And Remodeled

Customers of the J. C. Penney store in Monrovia will be delighted with the changes that have been made to facilitate shopping. The entire store has been painted, redecorated and remodeled, and the balcony has been enlarged to double its former size.

The ladies ready to wear, infants, millinery and corset departments which were downstairs, have been moved to the new mezzanine. Dressing rooms have been added, and a very smart millinery bar, the last word in style, has been installed. The mezzanine is fully carpeted and was designed with the comfort of customers in mind. The enlarged shoe department and the new bedding department are in larger quarters on the first floor due to the greater space in the mezzanine.

The Penney store invites old and new customers to visit them in their remodeled and enlarged quarters.

Congos Set Record With 18 Errors In One Ball Game

The Congos team of the Kiwanis boys' baseball league contributed a real comedy of errors in its game with the champion St. Rita's last Thursday night when they made 18 errors and were defeated by a score of 26-6. St. Rita's on the other hand played errorless ball. Every member of the St. Rita team excepting the short stop scored one or more runs. Sakamoto paddled over the plate five times and Kiggins and John Grippi four.

Preceding the St. Rita-Congo game the VFW's defeated the Legion 17-11.

Standings of the boy's league teams at the end of the first half of the season follows:

	W	L	Pct.
St. Rita's	8	1	.888
V. F. W.	6	3	.666
Congos	3	6	.333
Legion	1	8	.111

Ten players in the league batted an average of 400 or better during the first half. These ten players and their batting averages follow:

	Pct.
L. Pratt (Congos)	.571
H. Rivers (St. Rita's)	.562
F. Yoshimoto (VFW)	.475
J. Sakamoto (St. Rita's)	.447
G. Thompson (Congos)	.427
J. O'Grady (Legion)	.427
A. Wood (VFW)	.424
M. Brandler (VFW)	.421
J. Dougherty (Congos)	.408
T. Solary (VFW)	.400

Council Adopts The Land Use Plan For New Zoning Law

to school, business center, post office and churches, adding: "Due to the centralized grouping of the business center and the topography of the community, this is an important feature to many people who wish to rent but who do not have transportation facilities available."

The petition was signed by Harry A. Howard, Mrs. Florence Ware, Carrie Keniston, Roy Edwards, Clarence Howard, Hugh Deacon, William Spurck (by Hugh Deacon), James G. Norris and Mrs. James G. Norris.

The vestry of the Church of the Ascension filed a protest against the inclusion of the church property on North Baldwin avenue in the area zoned for multiple dwelling. A second petition was filed by practically the entire church membership. The petitions called attention to the fact that when the church was built 50 years ago it was necessary to protect itself against undesirable neighbors and later to object to the building of a bungalow court north of the property. The petitions asked that the area be classified for single dwellings.

Mrs. Olive Feltz, owner of the property at 46 East Highland avenue, filed a petition asking that her property be placed in a multiple dwelling area.

New High Record Set By Registration

Registration of voters that ended last Thursday midnight shows all previous registration exceeded by an estimated 10,000. The former high mark was reached in the 1936 presidential election. Registrar of Voters Kerr estimated that the final day of registration brought the total number of qualified electors up to 1,390,000, an increase of 8,100 over the 1936 figures. Democrats outnumbered Republicans almost 2 to 1 in Los Angeles city and nearly 3 to 1 in the county as a whole. The Sierra Madre registrations have not been reported to the Los Angeles city hall.

Meanwhile the registration of voters for the November election continues at the city hall.

MISS DORIS GILBERT DANGEROUSLY ILL

The many Sierra Madre friends of Miss Doris Gilbert, formerly of the Sierra Madre News staff, will be sorry to learn that she underwent an emergency operation at a Los Angeles hospital on Monday and is still in a critical condition.

tax levy at this time pending a decision on the threatened increase of from $60 to $104 per high school pupil by the Pasadena board.

Meanwhile disposition of the Pasadena board to increase school taxes and to jump the rate on Sierra Madre pupils is attracting no little attention.

On the subject of increased tuition for local pupils in Pasadena, M. E. Drum writes in the Lamanda Park Herald: The school board at Sierra Madre is making a strenuous kick about a tuition boost for Sierra Madre pupils attending Wilson junior high school. Sierra Madre is a part of Pasadena high school district. They have been paying $60 per pupil for their high school privileges, which is supposed to be the average cost to Pasadena pupils. It is now proposed to boost the fee for Sierra Madre pupils to $104 and our neighboring city kicks. Don't blame them. Next Sierra Madre will be getting a high school of its own.

On the question of higher school taxes the Temple City Times in an editorial says:

It would appear that the Pasadena school board should consider general economic conditions, more than it apparently has thus far, before the board votes the highest budget in five years for the junior high, high school and junior college district—a budget for which the people of our community as property owners in the district will have to pay a part of the bill.

We have the spectacle of economic conditions falling to their 1933 and 1934 levels while, at the same time, the Pasadena school board presents an increase in average daily attendance costs per pupil of approximately 31 per cent.

ATTRACTIVE BILL AT WASHINGTON THEATRE

Fred MacMurray fans will be interested in the bill at the Washington theatre today and Saturday when "Coconut Grove" with MacMurray and Harriett Hilliard is shown; also "Tip-Off Girls" with Lloyd Nolan and Mary Carlisle. "Fighting Devil Dogs" No. 3 is scheduled for Saturday matinee. Starting Sunday and continuing through Wednesday, "In Old Chicago" with Tyrone Power and Alice Faye, in addition to many other stars, will be the Washington's headliner. The added attraction will be "Island in the Sky" with Gloria Stuart and Michael Whalen.

GARDEN CLUB WILL RESUME SESSIONS

Mrs. M. L. Hays of 248 San Gabriel Court, president of the Esther Forman Garden Club announces that the next meeting will be held August 5, at the home of Mrs. W. A. McTavish, 164 San Gabriel Court. Mrs. Hays will speak on the care and cultivation of azaleas, and Mrs. Etta Wright has chosen for her topic "September Gardens."

NEWLYWEDS HONOR GUESTS AT DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Graham who were recently married at Lake Providence, La., and are now living at 374 North Grove street, were guests of honor at a dinner party given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. William Lauren Rhoades, 529 West Highland. Other guests included Mrs. W. T. McKee, and Miss Thomasella Graham of Sierra Madre; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schafford of Monrovia, and the Misses Della and Pearl Neagle of San Francisco who are visiting their sister, Mrs. Rhoades.

HOLD BIRTHDAY PARTY IN COUNTRY'S NEW PARK

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Minnie Douglas gathered at the new county recreation center in Arcadia Sunday from 12 to 5 p.m. to help her celebrate her 70th birthday. The color scheme was pink and white and arrangements were made by Mrs. Edith Smith, daughter of Mrs. Douglas. Sharing honors with the birthday guest was Mrs. Mattie Kline of Wilmar.

Other relatives attending the party were Mrs. Kline's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Claude Gilkey of Wilmar; Mr. and Mrs. King Wilson, Arcadia; and their son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jenkins of San Pedro. Sierra Madreans present to wish Mrs. Douglas a happy birthday included Mr. and Mrs. C. Brock and Mrs. Winifred Bradley.

SHOWER PLANNED FOR OLD PEOPLE'S HOME

Ladies of the Canadian Club of the San Gabriel Valley will hold their next meeting Monday, August 1, at the British Old People's Home, 647 Manzanita avenue, Sierra Madre. This meeting will take the form of a pantry shower for the home. All attending will kindly bring canned fruits, vegetables, jellies or jams. Anyone wishing transportation please phone Miss Fannie Wheeler, 3033, for reservations. All who have cars kindly contact Miss Wheeler. All Britishers are cordially invited.

New Paint Store Is Latest Addition To Business District

Saturday, July 30, is the date set for formal opening of the Brown Paint Store located at 62 West Sierra Madre Blvd., opposite the city hall. Sierra Madreans are now able to purchase the famous Sherwin-Williams line of paints, varnishes and wallpapers directly from the company's own representative. H. L. Brown, formerly of Pasadena, is very proud of the complete line of wall papers, particularly the new Imperial papers now being displayed at his new showrooms.

Sherwin-Williams paints have never been sold in Sierra Madre before, and Brown's store is giving local residents who are building, remodeling or painting their homes an opportunity to try this world-famous line of paints and papers. Enameloid, screen enamel, gloss enamel, stains, varnishes and floor wax are some of the products Mr. Brown is carrying in addition to the wall paper. A complete decorative service is also offered by Mr. Brown who will be assisted in the store by his son.

Local residents are invited to visit the grand opening Saturday and see for themselves the number of different products handled in the Sherwin-Williams line, the dependability of which has been established by years of satisfactory service.

ANNOUNCE CHANGE IN CAROLINA'S TITLE

Charles A. Pole, operating the Carolina at 195 North Oakland at Walnut, Pasadena, announced yesterday that henceforth the Carolina will be known as the Carolina Restaurant and will do away entirely with any suggestion of its being a tea room. Excellent food is prepared by Henry De la Boussy, a famous chef, formerly connected with Hotel del Coronado, Montecito. Country Club (Santa Barbara), the Brevoort and Lafayette Cafes of New York City. Helen and Charles Pole have established their home in Pasadena.

What is this thing called a kilowatt-hour?

★ Most people know that a kilowatt-hour (KWH) has something to do with their electric bill, but beyond that the word is a mystery. The kilowatt-hour is used in the electrical industry to measure electricity just as the dairyman uses quarts to measure milk. The diagrams on this page will help you understand just what a kilowatt-hour is and what it means to you in terms of useful service.

A watt-hour is the amount of energy needed to lift a 1 lb. weight 2654 feet.  A watt-hour is too small a unit for convenient measurement, so we use the kilowatt-hour which is 1000 watt-hours.  A kilowatt-hour is equal to 1000 watts being continuously utilized for a period of 1 hour. Thus one 100-watt lamp burning for 10 hours would consume 1 kilowatt-hour.  1 kilowatt-hour is equivalent to 13 men working for one hour.  The average home consumes 50 kilowatt-hours a month—equal to 650 man hours of labor. If you paid this man only 25c an hour, it would cost you $162.50. Yet the average family pays $2.50 or less for an equivalent service.

INSURANCE—Sierra Madre is reaping the benefits of an exceedingly low fire insurance rate caused by the efficiency of our fire department and the carefulness of our people. Take a look at our mountain side and think what it would mean if this beautiful view was marred by a fire. Use unusual care with outdoor fires during the dry season and it will pay us all.
